ABSTRACT

Check the source document to see how to format for different things like bold and italic. LaTeXcan be complicated, but it can make really nice documents and make a lot of the complicated things easier for you.

Please pay special attention to the formatting of references and appendices in this document. If you do not follow these to the letter, the document may not reference or compile correctly.

CHAPTER 1

EXAMPLE CHAPTER FOR THE THESIS

1.1 Abstract

Here's an example of an abstract for your chapter.

1.2 Introduction

Here's an introduction. There is also a picture of a chicken (Fig. 1.1).

1.3 Methods

Here's another section.

1.3.1 Data

Here's a subsection. We can cite things for these sentences easily (Cadotte and Tucker 2017; Del-Rio et al. 2021).

$$a^2 + b^2 = c^2 \tag{1.1}$$

1.4 More information

See something in Appendix A. NOTE in the code document that I had to use ‘hyperref‘ and not ‘ref‘ for the appendix.

CHAPTER 2

CONCLUSIONS & FUTURE RESEARCH

2.1 Overview

Here's your conclusion document.

APPENDIX A

EXAMPLE CHAPTER FOR THE THESIS

This is an example of a landscape table that repeats over multiple pages.

Table A.1: This is an example of a document, where you can cite things that will also be in the document (Upham, Esselstyn, and Jetz 2019).
